

My #1 slave

My personal slave, after two years of faithful service, has proven himself worthy for mention on my site. This distinction I do not give lightly, it must be earned. I have given him a name. His name is slave't'.

These pictures show his Black Panther tattoo (my personal brand) as well as his Prince's Wand (insert able), he had to remove his 4G Prince Albert piercing temporarily to insert it. This device goes all the way inside the urethra. It is then screwed and locked into place. Another ring secures the head. Of course, only I have the key. :) It also comes with an attachment for urination through a plastic tube. I control all his comings and goings! He wouldn't have it any other way. This device he purchased for himself, not at my suggestion. Like his PA piercing, it is a constant reminder that he is owned and controlled, even if he is away on a business trip. He is my chattel. I am fiercely jealous! Being attached, I cannot reveal my slaves identity. I am discreet and will always protect his privacy. I couldn't be a professional dominatrix for 10 years if honesty and discretion were not a major part of my repertoire. I am always safe, sane and consensual.

He is 100% loyal, reliable and obedient to me. He is my property and he belongs to me body, mind and soul. He has lost 55 pounds, built most of my dungeon equipment, allows me total access to expand his mental, physical and emotional boundaries. He continues to freely contribute to my financial, emotional and physical well being on a daily basis.

My slave 't' is adamant about being the best slave he can possibly be for me. He is always trying to improve himself. He is currently taking flying lessons to become a pilot. Our relationship is one of a higher state of being that can not compare to conventional relationships. Trust, love, complete obedience and a sincere, devoted heart have made slave't' my #1 slave.

N.B.-There is currently an opening in my stable for one true submissive/slave. The person I seek must be able to completely obey and abide by all of MY rules. A tattoo and a PA piercing are a pre-requisite to gain entry into my stable. You must be prepared to fulfill my needs/wants/fantasies in any manner I see fit. You are gainfully employed, educated, disease/drug free, mentally/emotionally stable. Your age is 35-60 and you must be in excellent health and able to withstand rigorous workouts of various forms. I am extremely selective, so you may e-mail me if you think you have what it takes to belong to Mistress Enya the "Black Panther Goddess" from the Pacific Northwest! Include a phone number and if your e-mail impresses me I will contact you for a face to face interview. Aren't you tired of searching for your Goddess to worship?

WHAT MATTERS MOST IS HOW YOU SEE YOURSELF.
